Who Altin is

Altin is a technology company. It runs courier services, a marketplace for food delivery, payments — and more to come.

One master brand carries every service. The mark and wordmark never change; a service word extends them. This book fixes the rules so every app, letter, card and post reads as one company.

BRAND ARCHITECTURE

Altin — Master brand — always present

- Altin Courier
- Altin Food
- Altin Pay
- Altin [Next service]

VOICE

Proposed — edit to fit

Direct
Short sentences, plain words, one idea at a time. Say what Altin will do and when.

Reliable
Every promise is specific: a time, a place, an amount. No hype words in place of facts.

Local
Ghana-first. Names, places and prices written the way people actually say them.

120 px · 32 mm wide

Mark minimum
24 px · 8 mm wide

Add shadows or effects

Low-contrast colour behind it

Altin moves parcels, meals and payments. The brand should read as one company on every screen, letter and post — which is why it uses exactly three typefaces, and the wordmark is never typed.

Sentence case

Headlines and buttons in sentence case. Tracked caps only for the stacked service word and tiny labels.

Tight up top

Display and headlines track −0.02 to −0.025 em. Body text is never tracked.

Never type the logo

“Altin” in running text is plain type. As a logo it is always the wordmark file.

Numbers in mono

Tracking IDs, amounts, times and codes are set in Plex Mono so they align and scan.

Brand patterns

Frame

Covers, packaging, van livery, hoardings. Tone-on-tone only — white at 30% on Altin Red, or Charcoal at 8% on Paper.

Stripe 60°

The angle of the mark’s legs. Edges, tape, rider gear, banner ends. Red on Charcoal, or white on red.

Loop

The handle, repeated. Soft surfaces: letter footers, receipts, app empty states. Red 100 on Paper or white.

Route

Courier contexts only: tracking screens, delivery packaging, maps. Grey 300 lines, red and charcoal nodes.

Patterns sit behind content, never on top of it, and never touch the logo’s clear space. One pattern per surface. Scale so the smallest element is at least 3 mm in print or 8 px on screen.
